

Healthy School Environments

2017 School Food Service Training: Breakfast Evaluation

6 Extension Educators

25 Counties

50+ Schools

194 School staff trained

2 out of 3 participants indicated that they can use what they learned during the training

The facilitator was well prepared.

82%

The facilitator was knowledgeable about the topic.

82%

The facilitator presented the material in an understandable manner.

83%

I can use what I learned today.

66%

I will change my practices based on what I learned today.

40%

98%

of participants correctly answered that the state of Minnesota provides additional funding so that all Kindergarten students receive free school breakfast.

51%

of participants provided examples of how they plan to market school breakfast, including through posters, school announcements, social media, and by word of mouth.

The Workshops Were Well Received

Participants learned the benefits of increasing school breakfast participation and new strategies for marketing breakfast in schools. Participants provided feedback on the training.

Participants said:

"I was satisfied with the presentation as is. Good to have group activities."

Le Sueur

"Make sure administration has the same training. This will be more influential than kitchen staff just going to them with this info."

Cass

"Can not add much because she (the educator) covered all the things she was asked."

Jackson